

Fabian build the initial multi cycle processor, without the finalized autograder and then had to leave

Andrew fixed the bug in the initial multi cycle processor then adapted the format to the autograder

Ai was in our workflow, but having ever instant of using it noted in the comments became tedious so we used it procedurally, ai was used to explain bugs and verbal solutions without direct code, ai also assisted in formatting and commenting on code to maintain clarity.